Chemours Johnsonville Recognized for Environmental Excellence

New Johnsonville Site awarded Wildlife Habitat Council Conservation Certification

NEW JOHNSONVILLE, TN, April 21, 2022 – The Chemours Company’s Johnsonville Site demonstrated its commitment to environmental stewardship by achieving Wildlife Habitat Council (WHC) Conservation Certification for its Species Management and Habitat programs. The site’s programs will be recognized at the 2022 WHC Conservation Conference on June 14 to 15 in Detroit, Michigan. Members of the Johnsonville WHC Team include Marty Allison, Michael Bull, Daniel Copper, Joe Ted Lynch, Gregg Martin, and Bob Vargas.

“The Wildlife Habitat Council certification program has given us the ability to show our commitment to supporting both the forest and wildlife found on the Johnsonville site,” said Chemours Johnsonville Environmental Health and Safety Manager Marty Allison. “These programs are something we all enjoy being a part of and we take pride in being able to provide for the local wildlife and take care of our natural resources.”

Two projects are being utilized for the program, the first being Species Management which focuses on avian monitoring including bird conservation and improved stewardship of bird habitats for ospreys and bluebirds. Currently, the site is maintaining and monitoring 20 bluebird and two osprey nests weekly. This project was put in place several years ago by the original site Wildlife Habitat Committee. Some of the original bluebird boxes are still being used, and both osprey platforms are still in place and active.

The second project, Habitat, includes forest management as a wildlife conservation effort. In forest management, trees are harvested for a variety of reasons that benefit the overall health of the forest. Chemours Johnsonville’s hardwood forest had not been managed since 1958, so several harvest methods were selected to address concerns with tree health, future forest succession planning, and the current and future wildlife habitat.

“The Chemours Johnsonville site is recognized as meeting the strict requirements of WHC Conservation Certification,” said WHC President Margaret O’Gorman. “Companies achieving WHC Conservation Certification, like Chemours Johnsonville, are environmental leaders, voluntarily managing their lands to support sustainable ecosystems and the communities that surround them.”

In addition to Chemours Johnsonville’s WHC efforts, the site is planning to develop a walking trail. It will extend from the Chemours parking lot to the OXY-Chem substation. The trail will have learning stations along its length with food plots allocated in the forest area. In addition to employee use, it will provide a place for Chemours to host outdoor classroom activities with local schools. Since 2020, Chemours Johnsonville has contributed more than $50,000 to school partnership programs in Humphreys and surrounding counties, and the trail and outdoor classroom activities offers another way for the employees to give back.

HUMPHREYS COUNTY EXECUTIVE
★ AUGUST 4, 2022 ★

Being a life-long resident of Humphreys County, I’ve lived through the economic good times and growth, and the terrible recession and job loss for several years, which we never really have recovered from. We continue to lose jobs-good paying jobs with benefits, and with their loss we lose our workforce population. Over 40% of our labor force drives over 100 miles daily to remain living here in Humphreys County. I intend to work very closely with the Economic Development, industrial recruiting, and tourism recruiting that we have here, and on our state level. I want to do everything we can to bring prosperity back to our county. When I look at my grandchildren, I can only hope they will be able to raise their families here. It is great that we have been able to keep business-large and small, industry, and the medical facilities we have. For that I am thankful, but that can’t be enough. Just accepting that we are one county too far from Nashville will never be acceptable to me. We will be in the governor’s office or representatives’ offices for the long-term, asking for economic improvements for Humphreys County. I want to help with these issues.

Our county will recover from the devastation we experienced August 21, 2021. So many of our friends and neighbors continue to suffer in anguish. Our prayers continue to go out to folks that lost family, children, their homes...everything. We will get these schools rebuilt: McEwen High School, Waverly Elementary School, and Waverly Junior High School. We will get the new Humphreys County Jail built, and the destroyed bridges replaced. I want the quality of life we shared here to return. Some things will never be the same, but they will be better. I look forward to discussing these issues, along with others, with you between now and August 4th.

I humbly and sincerely ask for your vote for Humphreys County Executive. Your vote and continued support is greatly appreciated.

Thank you,
Johnny
